Introduction

"Sawasdee" — the traditional Thai greeting symbolizing warmth, grace, and respect — is graciously extended to all distinguished athletes, officials, and honored guests from around the world.

On behalf of the Thai Jump Rope Sport Association (TJR), in proud collaboration with The Heart Foundation of Thailand under the Royal Patronage, the principal organizer of this prestigious championship; it is our great honor and privilege to welcome you and your delegation to the dynamic and hospitable city of Bangkok for this remarkable international sporting event. The Queen's Cup Jump Rope Thailand Open 2026 stands as a distinguished symbol of athletic excellence, unity, and international friendship. This year's championship carries profound significance, as the Royal Trophy awarded to the highest-scoring team has been most graciously bestowed by Her Majesty the Queen Suthida Bajrasudhabimalalakshana of Thailand, reflecting the esteemed honor and prestige of this extraordinary event.

QUEEN'S CUP
JUMP ROPE
THAILAND OPEN 2026

We extend our heartfelt encouragement to all athletes, coaches, and participating delegations as they pursue excellence and strive for outstanding achievements throughout this championship. Furthermore, this event officially recognized by the International Jump Rope Union (IJRU) and Asian Jump Rope Union (AJRU) as "Acknowledged Event" level championship, is dedicated not only to athletic excellence but also to strengthening unity, friendship, and international collaboration within the global jump rope community. Through this gathering, we celebrate the shared passion, sportsmanship, and camaraderie that connect athletes and enthusiasts from around the world.

Host Organizers:

Thai Jump Rope Sport Association (TJR) was officially established on 10 August 2018, as the recognized governing body for the jump rope sport in Thailand. Since its inception, TJR has remained committed to promoting the growth and development of jump rope at both national and international levels. In its founding year, TJR proudly hosted its first major international championships, including ASEAN Jump Rope Championship Bangkok 2018 and Thailand Jump Rope Open 2018, followed by Mini Thailand Jump Rope Open 2019. Building upon this success, TJR has continuously elevated the standard of international competition through the organization of the prestigious Queen's Cup Jump Rope Thailand Open for the past consecutive years.

The Heart Foundation of Thailand under the Royal Patronage (HFT) has been actively promoting jump rope through the "Jump for Heart Project" for more than 20 years as part of its ongoing mission to encourage healthy lifestyles and help prevent heart disease among children and youth in Thailand. Following the official recognition of jump rope as a competitive sport in 2018, HFT began a close collaboration with Thai Jump Rope Sport Association to further develop the discipline from a recreational activity into a nationally and internationally recognized sport. Since then, both organizations have proudly co-organized the Thailand Jump Rope National Championship annually, creating an important platform for athletes to showcase their talents while simultaneously promoting public awareness of heart health, physical fitness, and active living throughout Thailand.

Host City: Bangkok Metropolitan, Thailand

Bangkok Metropolitan, the vibrant capital city of Thailand, is internationally renowned for its magnificent temples, rich cultural heritage, and dynamic urban lifestyle. As the residence of the Royal Family and the center of government administration, Bangkok also serves as the nation's principal hub for commerce, finance, industry, and international connectivity.

Despite its modern urban development, Bangkok continues to preserve its rich cultural identity. The city is renowned for its exotic temples, historic landmarks, and magnificent monuments, all of which embody the charm and legacy of a legendary Oriental capital. This unique character is reflected in the city's official Thai name, "Krung Thep Mahanakhon," which translates to "City of Angels." For the Thai people, Bangkok is always known as Krung Thep — the spiritual, symbolic, and physical heart of the nation.
